Forecast For Strathclyde
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Wednesday 07 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Mostly dry with sunny spells on Thursday, far west cloudier.

This Evening and Tonight:
A mainly sunny evening, perhaps a sharp shower over Lanarkshire. Clear spells for most overnight but low cloud, mist and drizzle will reach Argyll's west coast and isles, perhaps also affecting Ayrshire. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Thursday:
Most places dry and bright with some sunshine at times. However low cloud and mist will affect far western coasts and isles, while cloud will build up inland. Quite warm. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Bright with some sunshine at times. Mainly dry, but scattered showers breaking out by day, these heavier over the weekend. Winds mostly light.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.